EDITORIAL

When the relaxation of the total tie came into being two years ago, the government intended that each tenant would be free to choose a 'real' beer of his or her own choice. This was to be on top of a beer from the brewery recommended lists. Unfortunately, the government also signalled their intent to give tenants security of tenure to bring them into line with others in the housing sector. They stupidly told the brewers that this would not take place for another eighteen months, so this gave the brewers plenty of time to thwart the law before it came into being.

So, what has happened is that, negotiations between landlord and brewery have interferred in a huge way with the guest beer act. Suddenly, tenants who have been under pressure from their bosses to sign long term leases, have buckled under and meekly stocked a beer from an approved list. Hence Courage pubs have taken Wadworth 6X; Whitbread pubs have Brakspears or Greene King; Watney pubs Ruddles or Courage; Bass pubs Youngs Fullers; Allied, Tetleys. Now Youngs is available in Courage pubs as well and other agreements will doubtless be reached soon.

For the real ale drinker, who is becoming more welcome and accepted in London pubs, the choice is much better than it has been for years. For us seasoned campaigners, however, these developments have proved a double-edged sword. Youngs pubs now have a wonderful selection of lagers and only two draught beers for the summer, now hopefully increased to three with the introduction of Porter last month.

In the old days, Youngs used to be extremely cautious about selling their beer into the free trade because, they argued, quality had to come before quantity and a first time drinker of Youngs must not be given a bad impression by getting a poor pint. Consequently, the free trade pubs were proud of being chosen to sell the beer. Now with quantity dictating the terms, the chances of getting terrible pints have increased immeasurably. This is also true of Fullers products. Youngs P.A., being a very bitter beer, is particularly prone to poor cellar practices.

Let us compare this with the most profitable independent brewery company - Joseph Holt of Manchester. Holts charge the least of all for their beers 84p and 88p and have only 50 free trade accounts, all in a strictly defined area. Their products sell massively in comparison to other concerns because they have quality products at reasonable prices. Holts, like Fullers and Youngs, have also increased their tied properties gradually as funds permit. What Holts have resisted are cross-agreements which could undermine the existing trade in their tied houses. Fullers and Youngs products are sold within short distances of tied houses with a subsequent decline in trade for these pubs. Many managers and tenants have spoken to me about the need for a guest beer; something totally unheard of only a year ago.

I voice these concerns only because they have been expressed to me by publicans I meet in my travels around London. Youngs and Fullers products are still the best in Southern England. I only hope they continue to be brewed as now and do not become 'more acceptable' beers as have others who have become reliant on the trade with the big brewers; Gales, particularly springs to mind. Their products used to be wonderful, distinctive brews and when they became virtually reliant on their trade with Phoenix (Watney), the qualities that were their hallmark were abandoned to provide beers with a longer shelf life, and became sweet, sickly beers by comparison. Only now are the beers regaining some of their former taste, a taste sacrificed to help incompetent landlords to keep their beers. Ruddles products also seem to be brewed like this as well.

I'm sure all lovers of Youngs and Fullers products will be constantly monitoring with their taste buds over the coming year!

LETTER TO THE EDITORS

Dear Editors

A couple of years ago you published a walk through the lanes and paths in part of Surrey punctuated by visits to pubs. On Easter Monday I did this walk again and at one point found myself in one of the hostelries listed, the HURTWOOD INN at Peaslake, where I received a great surprise.

This pub is in fact a Trust House hotel and is very well appointed so I was very gratified to find the following prices per pint:

Courage Best Bitter - £1.14. John Smiths Yorkshire Bitter -£1.22. Strong Bitter (varies) - £1.34. Keg Guinness - £1.29

I queried this with the lady behind the bar and she explained that as the hotel is the only pub in the village it was policy to keep prices to a level which should be expected in a village pub.

I think that this policy is to be applauded and I should be interested to hear of any other cases such as this.

Yours

Denys Vernall, Hounslow

Dear Editor,

London Drinker April 1992, p.14: Lord Rodney's Head.

I cannot help Keith Emmerson with Crowder's Well, but Andrewes House (exactly where is it, by the way?) is almost certainly named after Lancelot Andrewes, 1555-1626. Born in London and educated at Merchant Taylor's School (then in the City), he was successively vicar of St Giles, Cripplegate, prebendary of St Paul's, and dean of Westminster, later bishop of Chichester, then of Ely and finally of Winchester.

He was well versed in more than fifteen classical and middle East languages and is perhaps best known for his prominent role on the revising board of fifty-four clerics and scholars which produced the King James' "Authorised" Version of the Bible from 1607-11.

Yours sincerely Tony Gayfer Dear Editor

As I mentioned to you last time we met in the Skinners, I was working nights until Feb. and hopefully will be again by the end of the year.

Are you aware of any early opening pubs near the New Covent Garden Market or is there any bar there open in the early morning like the ones at Smithfield

Yours faithfully, Colin Price

Dear Editor

Better late than never I suppose, but as possibly the furthest travelled customer to the London Drinker Beer Festival I felt that I had to write.

I had to fly back to England for an appointment in London on the 10th March, so imagine my delight when scanning Whats Brewing the previous week, to find the festival advertised on page two and the dates coinciding with my brief visit.

Having been in Gib for eleven months and having to suffer keg Websters and extraordinarily cold spanish fizz, the chance to rekindle my dormant taste buds seemed like heaven on earth. I was not disappointed!

The aroma and taste of my first half, Robinsons' Best Mild, was not, to put too fine a point on it, almost orgasmic! I think because of the fact that it was the first real ale that I'd had for nearly a year, that made it the best beer of the festival, for me at least. In fact all the beers I sampled were kept in excellent condition.

Please pass on my sincere thanks to everyone involved. Everyone, from the guys at the door to the bar staff, was extremely courteous.

It was an event that I won't forget for a long time. Nor will my fellow passengers on the flight home just three hours after leaving the lunch time session on the Wednesday. Ten different halves of ale plus a vegetable samosa and an onion bahjee. Not a good idea!!

Best Wishes

Nigel Watling

Re: The Jolly Angler, Ducie Street, Manchester

Mike Harding has recently written a book covering the canal route through the City Centre from Paradise Wharf to Castlefields and attached is a part of that publication which refers to "this great little Manchester pub".

As part of our work in promoting Paradise Wharf, we contacted the companies which produce canal guides for holiday makers travelling around the Cheshire Ring of canals. We did this because we wish to encourage holidaying narrowboats to stay overnight at Paradise Wharf. Michael Pearson who produces the Pearson's Cheshire Ring Book, travelled through Paradise Wharf by barge and stayed overnight. I met him in the Jolly Angler and he subsequently wrote about the pub in his book.

At the current time the Central Manchester Development Corporation are carrying out extensive environmental improvement works to the canal-side areas at Paradise Wharf and monies in the order of £150,000 have been spent in upgrading the towpath areas, providing lighting, benches, mooring rings, and additionally we will be designing interpretive plaques which will be fixed alongside the towpath at Paradise Wharf. When holiday makers stop they clearly want to know where local facilities are, and we intend that one of these boards will provide such information, i.e. how far is it to the City Centre of Manchester, where can they buy local groceries and provisions, where can they have a night out and drink locally. The obvious answer as already included in the Mike Harding and Michael Pearson books is the Jolly Angler, and this will be reflected on the information plaque we will be erecting at Paradise Wharf.

It is also worth pointing out that this particular area of Manchester is historically very important and in the late 18th Century was the "canal port" to the Eastern Side of the City. In recent times, a great many of the former canal-side buildings have been used predominantly for surface car parking. Although in Manchester we have a Development Corporation who are pledged to encouraging re-development of inner city areas there is nothing to prevent building owners from continuing to demolish and clear sites for additional car parking use. Over recent months there have been two such examples, one of which was prevented as a result of local action and a petition to the Development Corporation. In order to try and provide the area with a secure future there is now a call for the area to be decalred a Conservation Area. For your reference I have attached the relevant background information on this further petition.

As one of the more modest buildings the Jolly Angler could well find itself under threat in due course if a measure such as the declaration of a Conservation Area status for the Ducie Street area is not achieved. The special qualities of the pub are the fact that it has remained "untouched and unspoilt" by "progress". Linked to the fact that Michael and Sheila create a warm and friendly atmosphere as the publicans then you've got the ideal combination for a terrific local pub. Hydes Anvil Ales of course help as well! In terms of the history of the Jolly Angler, you might be interested to know that it started life as the Mather Street Girls School and was next to the Good Samaritan Total Abstention Hall!

Yours sincerely

Ian Finlay - Partner
The Paradise Wharf Partnership

IDLE MOMENTS

Well, here we'are again. It is early May and the sun is shining; I wonder whether it will still be when you come to read this. Anyway, let's get straight down to business with the answers to last month's puzzles:

- 1. 10 pm is Closing Time at the Polling Stations on Election Day
- 2. 4 Faces, Points and Edges on a Tetrahedron
- 3. 1971 Decimal Currency Introduced in Britain
- 4. 200,000 Pounds Damages Won by Jason Donovan
- 5. 86 Million Miles to the Sun
- 6. 9 Different Colours on the London Underground Map
- 7. 31,536,000 Seconds in a Year
- 8. 6 Points on a Saint David's Star
- 9. 100 Letter Tiles in a Scrabble Set
- 10. 16 Black Pieces on a Chess Board

And for all you addicts who like something to get you wound up (or to convince you that I produce them purely for your personal annoyance), here are this month's:

- 1. 20 S in a P (BD)
- 2. 40 D from ES to AD
- 3. 54 G in a H
- 4. 4 CP on a C
- 5. 6 is BT and T on a DB
- 6. 1979 FI of LDP
- 7. 10 DC is E to FDF
- 8. 1 is the RTMN of the BRT
- 9. 10 P are A to the W of a FOGPR
- 10. 21 is the CM held by the C in the H of C

By the way, I should make it clear that I do not produce them to annoy anybody in particular; I derive great pleasure at the thought that I might be annoying every single reader of the London Drinker. Incidentally, have you noticed that Graham Dene has stopped doing them on his Capital Gold show. Perhaps too many people were using back numbers of the Drinker as crib sheets.

Last month I introduced Pat Hanson's idea of monosyllabic words which give three syllable anagrams. Here are the answers to the examples he gave which I worked out after much mental effort and a little help from my trusty Concise OED:

TRAIPSE

YARNED DENARY YEARNED DEANERY

Meanwhile, nobody has yet sent me in any more so, for this month at least, I shall revert to the old brewery anagrams:

- 1. RIP MERE
- 2. RUSS MILKS MEL
- 3. HAG EIGHT
- 4. LAY THY RIOT, TOM
- 5. HUG SHAH'S EAR

Now, do you know what time it is? Yes, it's Trivia Time. All right, I know I usually insist on calling them General Knowledge questions but General Knowledge Time doesn't have quite the same ring to it. That's enough of the waffle (Oh yes? - Ed.) here are last time's answers:

- 1. George Orwell
- 2. The mole
- 3. The Trogs
- 4. Bilbo was Frodo's uncle
- 5. Yellow Submarine
- 6. Michael Caine
- 7. Reg
- 8. Worcester
- 9. Roger Cook and Roger Greenaway
- 10. The Panama Canal

There, they were easy weren't they? No? Oh well, tough luck, here are some more to practise on - you might find them easier (and then again, you might not):

- Before Durham in 1992, which was the last county to be admitted to the English County Cricket championship, and in what year?
- 2. Who became King of all of England in 1016?
- According to the Old Testament, how many sons did Adam have, and what were their names?
- 4. What aeroplane, a development of the Lancaster, finally went out of service with the RAF in 1991?
- 5. We all know that the first postage stamp issued by the Post Office was the Penny Black, but what colour was its twopenny companion, issued at the same time?
- 6. Following the last question, on what date was the Penny Black first issued?

JOIN THE KING & BARNES ALE TRAIL

With the summer months here at last, what better way of getting out and about than to use an ALE TRAIL PASSPORT as your guide to the glorious contryside of Sussex, Surrey and Kent?

In each of King & Barnes' individual Traditional English Pubs you will find a warm welcome, good food and FINE SUSSEX ALES.

Pick up an ALE TRAIL PASSPORT in any King & Barnes Pub (or write to The Brewery at the address below), and you are on your way to winning either an ALE TRAIL CLUB Dartington Pint Mug, or a specially emblazened Sweatshirt.

All you have to do is to visit each Pub (in any order you like), buy a PINT of any of our FINE SUSSEX ALES, and then kindly ask the Bar Staff to enter a House Sticker and date it in the space provided in your ALE TRAIL PASSPORT.

But there's no need to hurry – there's no closing date – so take your time and enjoy a leisurely pint in all of these individual Pubs. For obvious drink and drive reasons, no more than 4 pubs may be entered in the Passport per day. Remember be safe, don't drink and drive.

Over 1,350 people have already completed the ALE TRAIL, and currently 32 have been round more than 10 times. There are different coloured Sweatshirts denoting one, three, five, ten and fifteen TRAILS.

Finally don't worry if you don't manage to make it all the way round – at least you will have found some great pubs, met new friends, and enjoyed a few pints of FINE SUSSEX ALES.

- 7. We also know that the first man on the Moon was Neil Armstrong, but who was second; and who was left in the Lunar Orbiter?
- 8. Again following the last question what was the number of the Apollo mission which made the first moon landing?
- 9. In what year was Abraham Lincoln assassinated?
- 10. Apart from those who were assassinated, how many presidents of the USA died in office? Can you name them?

You may remember last month I warned you that there would be no more brain teasers for a while unless somebody—sent me in some more. Well they haven't done so yet and so to round things off here are just the answers to last month's. (You may recall that the first was the last of many sent to me by Harry Davies of Shepherds Bush):

1. Always. Year always begins with Y and end always begins with E.

- George Stephenson. (Christopher Wren is on the back of the £50 note and Florence Nightingale is to be found on a £10 note.)
- 3. Nowhere hopefully until they died somewhere else.
- 4. When the bulb in the red light has failed.
- 5. The three-legged race.

As you may know, I like to finish off with a little witticism or even a solecism (good word - you might like to look it up). This one I culled from the pages of the Oxford Dictionary of Modern Quotations (I was thumbing through it in Smith's) and was invented by Billy Bennett ("Almost a Gentleman" was his epithet) and goes like this:

'Twas Christmas Day in the cookhouse, And the soldiers had gone to bed. They'd none of them had any pudding 'Cos the sergeant had done what they'd said! Cheerio!

43 MILDS FOR AN EVENING'S TIPPLE

If CAMRA saved real bitter, then this is doubly true for real mild. Mild has been seen as an old fashioned, old man's drink consisting mainly of slops. Despite a rough time in the 1970's and early 1980's, Mild is making a comeback and nowhere more so than at the Great British Beer Festival.

This year Mild represents 14% of the beer being ordered. This amounts to over 40 different varieties from all over the UK. If past trends are anything to go by, the Milds will prove very popular with the Festival visitors. The trend towards people being more aware of the quality of alcohol they are drinking seems to be helping Mild's rebirth. Mild will give you all the taste without the kick. Generally, a pint of Mild won't send you back to the office sleepy!

Many Milds from Independent breweries appear to have weathered the storm and their sales are now increasing. In total 64 have survived from the 94 available in the 1970's. At the Festival you will be able to taste the delights of Milds such as Adnams, Batemans, Brains, Taylors and Holdens to name but a few. But the Mild revival has encouraged a new generation of Milds from a new generation of brewers. Milds such as Moorhouse's Black Cat, Mauldon's Mild, Earl Soham Mild and West Coast's Dobbin's Dark Mild will also be on sale.

However many and varied the Milds on sale at the Festival, there will be some missing from the list. We can all come up with a list of Milds that brewers no longer thought worth keeping on. Milds such as Plymouth Heavy (from Courage), Greene King's KK and nearer to home, Fuller's Hock and Young's Mild. But perhaps all is not lost. If the real mild revival continues it may be that these breweries will take a second look at their beer portfolio and next year we may be celebrating the launch of a London Mild. Isn't it about time?

The Great British Beer Festival will open: Tuesday 4th August: 5pm-10.30pm (£3)

Wednesday-Friday 5th-7th August: 11.30am-3pm (£1); 5pm-10.30pm (£3)

Saturday 8th August: 11am-10.30pm (£3) No admission after 10pm. CAMRA members half price. Children: free

CAPITAL'S PUBS TO BECOME HERITAGE INNS

Taylor Walker has launched Heritage Inns, an initiative "aimed at preserving some of the capital's finest pubs". The Heritage Inn programme could eventually include as many as 50 pubs from the combined 700-strong pub estates of Taylor Walker and J & W Nicholson. More than 100 candidates are currently being considered for Heritage Inns status.

The pubs are to be chosen for their architectural and historic merits but in receiving the accolade, they must demonstrate the highest standards of customer service.

The pubs which now wear the Heritage Inns crown are: Ye Olde Mitre, off Hatton Garden; The Black Friar, Blackfriars; The Flask, Highgate; The Rising Sun, Mill Hill; The Crooket Billet, Southend and the Crown & Greyhound, Dulwich.

Speaking at the April launch of the programme, Taylor Walker's Managing Director David Longbottom said: "Heritage Inns means a safe future for the best of London's traditional pubs. The purpose of the Heritage Inns programme is to formally identify the most authentic, original and unspoilt examples of pubs from the history of our industry - and secure their future. The company has established strict rules and disciplines to protect our Heritage Inns - no alteration or refurbishment to any of the pubs, no matter how small, will be made without full approval of the board. This procedure will ensure that our Heritage Inns are preserved for the enjoyment of today's customers and future generations to come."

Each pub has a plaque to mark it as a Heritage Inn. They also have a "history corner" featuring a display which includes the story of the pub, details on its architecture and its role in the history of the area.

All Heritage Inns stock a range of traditional real ales and at least one traditional British dish on the daily menu. Heritage Inns bar staff are briefed on the background of their pub and how to relate to its tourists and other customers who express interest.

Managers of the pubs believe morale among staff and customers will be given a boost by the Heritage Inns initiative.

Don O'Sullivan, who runs "London's most hidden pub" Ye Olde Mitre, says: "Having Heritage Innsstatus is a tremendous tribute to the pub and underlines all that we are trying to achieve - i.e. the highest standards in a wonderful atmosphere.

Don and Sheila O'Sullivan, managers of Ye Olde Mitre, are presented with the Heritage Inns plaque by David Longbottom, Managing Director of Taylor Walker.

NEW PUBS FOR WETHERSPOONS

Wetherspoon's opened two new outlets in April to bring their total number of free houses to 42.

The two are The George in High Street, Wanstead, east London and the Moon Under Water in Broadway Parade, Coldharbour Lane, Hayes, Middlesex.

The George, a landmark pub was bought from Whitbread and has undergone a £420,000 refurbishment scheme.

Downstairs there is 3,000 square foot of drinking space and there is one large bar.

It has been given a local feel with pictures of the area as well as a number of photos and prints of famous George's, ranging from George Bernard Shaw to Lloyd George to George Michael.

The other new outlet, the Moon Under Water, has been converted from a former shop and is the company's first free house in the area.

It will take its theme from the article written by George Orwell on his idea of a perfect pub,

WALSALL - THE SCENIC ROUTE

Or - How We Visited The Black Country and Crossed the Empty Quarter.

05.54 is not a good time to get up on a Saturday - not after four and a half hours sleep and even worse after being up all night playing Trivial Pursuits. This is how the two travellers had spent their respective nights, and thus met very bleary-eyed at Victoria at 07.40 on 7th September 1991. The 08.30 coach was sought out - one left at 08.15 direct for Blackpool, so we just gained the last seats on the relief single for Birmingham. The plan was to catch the 11.38 from New Street, but with the thought that if only we would catch the 11.08 and perhaps take in Bilston. The coach-driver read our thoughts. All amber lights were ignored, as were reds if less than 100 yards away, and we averaged 80 mph on the M1.

So, as we drew into Digbeth Coach Station at 10.25, we decided to hit the streets. The 10.38 train was achieved easily, scattering marketgoers in our wake. Off at Coseley, finding a Hanson's pub - not yet open - in Foundry Street. However, the White House was open not in Washington or Moscow, but on the corner of Harding Street and Brierley Lane. Over the bridge crossing the former Wolverhampton Low-Level to Dudley line, now landscaped and at that point forming the Sandwell-Dudley boundary, then over a grassy hill to Bradley.

The George & Dragon (Ban ks) is an end-ofterrace pub in the middle of a building site the village is being extended in all directions. The man in the upstairs window confirmed 12.00 opening - rats, there were 4 other Banks, a Holden's and a Hanson's within 5 minutes walk! Anyway, along Ash Street to the Globe (Banks) - Saturday opening times obliterated and the doors were open. Inside, a large local in an Aussie Rugby League shirt was helping the barmaid to set the sparklers on the electric fonts. The guv'nor came to help and we had halves of tasty mild at 96p a pint. Back on the road and left along Dudley Street - this is the real Empty Quarter, where you only venture out if you live here. Most people dash past on the M6, or on the main lines (Birmingham-Wolverhampton, or Trent Valley) and don't realise what is off the main routes. It's full of derelict land, closed factories, ripped-up railways, and superb pubs, wonderful beer and marvellous people - Heaven and Hell side by side.

We crossed the half built Bilston by-pass and turned left into the High Street, past the Golden Cup and the Swan, then back and across to the Greyhound & Punchbowl for halves of Banks mild (although the pub is M&B) - slow service but worth the wait. Up Church Street with no sign of the Trumpet, but then we saw the Spread Eagle - Skittains (related to the British Oak in Dudley) - on Lichfield Street, a veritable bonus. The halves of Col. Pickering's Porter (£1.20 a pint) were delicious. The guv'nor reckoned 'Trumpet' was not the real name of the pub we missed but didn't know what was - we reckoned it had become 'Le Mon Rouge', an anonymous M&B house. (Perhaps a Dudley, Walsall or Wolverhampton branch member reading this can clear up the confusion!) Across the road to the White Rose for the first Highgate Mild of the day (appalling price - £1 a pint, and 51p per half) then a 79 to Darlaston, a small market town, and the Green Dragon - more Highgate Mild at 97p a pint - and a superb basic boozer. Down Victoria Road and Gordon Street to Walsall Road for the Holden's pub, the Prince of Wales (residence of the local Crufts, judging by several locals' companions), and another Banks pub, the Springhead Tavern (mild at 98p a pint, and again a good local). I would have stayed in the town all weekend, but duty called.

Up Mill Street and Old Park Road into Wednesbury, where we saw the Black Horse (M&B). No bar staff, no punters - no real ale, QED. Back down Franchise Street to the Cottage Spring for more Holden's Mild, then round Beebee Road, Park Lane and Hobs Road (more suburban and leafy by now) to the Leather Bottle on Vicarage Road for halves of Highgate Mild at 96p a pint. Incredibly, we were 15 minutes ahead of schedule, so into the Horse & Jockey for Ansell's Mild before finishing off the lunchtime session at the Woodman, further down Wood Green Road, with halves of Banks Mild at 93p a pint, cheapest of the day. We had to negotiate Junction 9 of the M6

FROM OUR ARCHIVES

TEN YEARS AGO the June 1982 edition consisted of 24 pages in a blue cover, which bore a cartoon. It showed a somewhat overweight athlete refreshing himself with a pint from a cask behind which was a placard reading LONDON MARATHON - CAMRA. A smaller sign indicated that he was still some way from the finish.

The first advert to meet the eye was for the Lord Nelson, Old Street, featuring Websters Yorkshire Bitter and Manns IPA at 62p a pint. Other beers mentioned in the main text were quoted as costing 54p. Mostyn Lewis looked back to the first Greenwich Beer Festival in 1975, when the admission fee was 50p including a free pint, the average price of a pint in a public bar was 22p.

An un-named writer treated readers to a crawl of Lower Clapton. The Crossword was compiled by Dave Quinton, whose present puzzle appears on p.11. The prize was £4 worth of real ale. I believe this was Dave"s first crossword for this magazine; that which had appeared the previous month was credited to Dave Richmond.

FIVE YEARS AGO the June 1987 issue also contained 24 pages including seven with the theme colour of chocolate brown. The cover featured the splash "RAYMENTS

TO CLOSE". We experiented with a deep purple instead of black. It was a wasted effort as the difference was hardly noticeable.

Booker's took out a full page advert for their pubs with an offer of a free pint on production of the page. Banks & Taylor did likewise for visitors to their second London pub, the Royal Oak, N1 - their first was the Lord Rodney's Head which features on the cover of the recently published East London & City Beer Guide.

East Ender described a crawl of Somers Town, starting at Euston Station.

More nostalgia next time, Editors permitting.

which he called the Moon Under Water.

The free house will have one bar and will feature pictures and text from George Orwell, who spent a short time in the area as a teacher. The Moon Under Water will have just over 1600 sq ft of drinking space and will open on the site of a former Angus Steak House and be the only pub in the square itself.

Wetherspoon's first West End free house has gone on site and is due to open in the first week of June.

14th GREENWICH REAL ALE FESTIVAL

The 14th Greenwich Real Ale Festival will be held at its usual venue, the Borough Halls, Royal Hill, SE10, from 17th to 20th June. On Wednesday and Thursday the festival will be open from 5pm to 11pm and on Friday and Saturday from noon to 11pm. The festival logo this year, which will feature on T-shirts, commemorative glasses etc, will be the Gipsy Moth IV which is berthed at Greenwich. 25 years ago Sir Francis Chichester was knighted in Greenwich after becoming the first person to circumnavigate the world singlehanded. To celebrate, a special beer, Gipsy Moth Tipple (GMT for

On Wednesday evening we will be repeating the popular quiz for teams of up to four persons. There will be questions on general knowledge, pubs and breweries. There will be a nominal entry fee but with free beer for all teams and lots of prizes for the top teams.

short), will be brewed for the festival by Shepherd Neame.

The festival will maintain its policy of having live mujsic in a hall separate from the main beer hall. This gives all festival-goers the option of enjoying the quiet quaffing of beer or of swinging and swigging in the music bar. On Thursday evening we host Mornington Lockett, a modern jazz group. On Friday evening there will be a warm welcome to mark the return of the Fulham Brass Band. On Saturday lunchtime you will be able to enjoy "laid back jazz" with the Ray Brooker Quintet whilst a blues group will be featured on Saturday evening.

There will not be a crèche this year. Unfortunately, a few irresponsible parents have caused this by failing to return to the crèche at their appointed time to collect their children and then eventually reappearing in no fit state to take proper control of their offspring.

In addition to festival T-shirts and sweat shirts, the products stall will be selling the CAMRA 21st birthday tankards and the complementary bottle-conditioned beer, specially brewed by Batemans, with which to "christen" the glass.

The Brewery Name Game stall will have its customary range of top quality prizes for the lucky winners and there will, of course, be the usual traditional cider bar and a foreign bottled beer bar.

Turning to the real ales on offer, a very wide selection, with some rare brews, will be available. On Wednesday there will be an emphasis on mild beers but some will be featured during all sessions and different "guest" beers will appear on the various sessions. The aim, in these recessionary times, will be to give exceptional value for money and visitors to the festival will be very pleasantly surprised by the reasonable prices which will be charged for a pint.

Admission to the festival will be £1.50 on Wednesday and Thursday, free to 5pm on Friday and £1.50 thereafter. £1 will be charged all day on Saturday. Naturally CAMRA members will be admitted free at all times.

The festival is only five minutes walk from Greenwich BR station and the number 1, 177, 180, 188, N77 buses are all very close at hand.

LONDON SE1 - PUB CRAWL

The problem with selecting pubs within SE1 is that there are just too many good pubs to mention. With about 170 to choose from, the majority of which sell Real Ale, this must be a purely personal listing on my part of pubs which, in my opinion are well worth seeeking out.

There is no better place to start than with the KINGS ARMS in Roupell St., at the rear of Waterloo East station, a G.B.G. listed pub for many years. The window of the Saloon bar is plastered with G.B.G. stickers. There are some interesting old maps of the SE1 area on the walls in the public bar, together with an extensive collection of Miniatures. Ind Coope Burton Ale, Taylor Walker Best Bitter and Tetleys Bitter are served here, to my taste the Tetleys is among the best that I have drunk in London; an excellent and deservedly popular pub.

Next turn right into Hatfields and then into The Cut where you will find the ANCHOR AND HOPE, a rare outlet in London for Charles Wells beers. A comfortable pub handy for the Young and Old Vic Theatres. The beer is usually of a very good quality. Walk East along The Cut to the corner of Blackfriars Road where stands THE RING (3). The Pre-War boxing venue 'Blackfriars Ring' was sited opposite. The pub has a gym and ring upstairs, the single bar is covered with plates of famous fighters. Mind your head on the low door beam to the

Gents, it will knock you out as quick as any boxer. Friary Meux Best Bitter, Taylor Walker

Best Bitter and Ind Coope Burton Ale, generally in good condition.

Cross Blackfriars Road and walk North towards the River and try the Youngs beers in the PRINCE WILLIAM HENRY, a friendly comfortable modern pub. Youngs Special and Bitter, with Winter Warmer in season. The beer is excellent and the reasonably priced menu make it a good place to eat in too, (there is good disabled access).

Now walk north towards the river, towards Blackfriars Bridge, where you will find the DOGGET'S COAT AND BADG a Nicholson's 'Free House' (part of the Allied Group). Adnams, Wadworths 6X and Tetleys are usually available plus occasional guest beers. There are fine views of the Thames from the upstairs bar, the prices are on the expensive side though and try to avoid Karaoke night on Thursdays!

Now cross over Blackfriars Road and turn right into Southwark Street, then first left into Hopton Street. Notice to your right the brick cottages of the Hopton Street Almshouses. They provide a welcome contrast to the surrounding architecture. Then onto the FOUNDERS ARMS yet another G.B.G. selection, the S.E.1. area boasts seven this year. The very best view of St Pauls cathedral and the River Thames can be had from here. A splendidly designed pub with a very long wall of glass allows a look out if the weather does not permit you to sit on the terrace. The usual Youngs beers are available together with a Restaurant and good disabled access.

Upon leaving, walk East until you come to the ANCHOR AT BANKSIDE, once known as 'Thrales of Deadman Place. A large Courage pub with separate rooms with Real fires in the winter. This historic pub has a very cosy atmosphere with Courage Best and Directors available. The prices are rather expensive but this outstanding pub is well worth a visit.

Take a walk through Bear Gardens into Park Street and look at the site of the Rose Theatre and reflect that this area was the Elizabethan equivalent of Shaftesbury Avenue, London's theatreland. Walk down Park Street and under Southwark Bridge into Clink Street. Then turn into Stoney Street where opposite the Borough Fruit and Vegetable Market you will find the MARKET PORTER. A popular Free House which brews its own beers next door. Their own beers are Market Bitter and Special. Also usually available are Boddington Bitter, Samuel Smiths Old Brewery Bitter, Marstons Pedigree, Greene King I.P.A. and Abbot Ale, all usually in good condition. An interesting old pub with several distinct drinking areas together with a collection of stuffed animals which look rather accusingly at you from the rafters. If any CAMRA branch wish to make an organised visit to the brewery, the manager Andrew Bishop (071-407 2495) will be happy to make the necessary arrangements.

Turn to your right and at No. 6 Stoney Street you will find the WHEATSHEAF, an unspoilt Victorian gem of a pub. Note the traditional partitioning between the bars. Courage Best Bitter and Directors, Imperial Russian Stout and a guest ale make up the beer range. The guest beer, which changes weekly has featured beers from Harvey's, Wards and Batemans (including milds). I would urge everyone to visit this excellent pub while it is still standing for it is under threat of demolition to make way for the widening of the railway line which passes close by.

At the corner of Stoney Street and Southwark Street is the SOUTHWARK TAVERN another Victorian pub, a Nicholson Free House with Adnams, Tetleys, Wadworth 6X and Ind Coope Burton Ale. It is open from 06.30 am to 08.30 am Tues-Sat for the benefit of the nearby market workers when it also serves breakfasts. If you wish to imbibe at these times it is advisable to carry a tray of lettuces with you as a disguise. It is open the usual hours as well and always worth a visit, though beware Friday is Karaoke night!

Now take a turn to the right into Southwark Street. Central Buildings on the North side was erected as the Hop Exchange in 1866. Notice the pediment with Hop and Harvesting scenes and the iron gates with hop decoration. Southwark was the centre of the hop industry and this magnificent high Victorian building is a reminder of it. In the basement you can find the HOP EXCHANGE, complete with spit and sawdust floors. A free house with restaurant, Balls Best Bitter, is especially brewed for the pub which is somewhat expensive and note that the pub closes at

Walk back to Borough High Street and opposite the Old Municipal Buildings at No. 67 is another reminder of Southwarks brewing past. W.M.L.E. May Hop Factors with a marvellous decorative panel of the Hop Gatherers on the front of the building. At No. 71 in the famous GEORGE INN, London's last remaining galleried coaching inn, note the large galleries. Some ground floor rooms have 18th and early 19th century fittings, however, unfortunately this is a Whitbread pub so you are advised just to look and admire, but drink elsewhere.

Walk South along the Borough High Street to No. 101, now a solicitors office, it used to be the wonderfully named Boot and Flogger Inn. Perhaps originally a meeting place for the Guild of Executioners and Allied Trades from the nearby Clink prison. Now turn left into Newcomen Street and have a pint of Courage Best or Directors in the KINGS ARMS. On the outside of this Victorian pub is the well carved Royal Arms from the gatehouse to the old London Bridge, the Lion and Unicorn is the motif.

Walk back along the Borough High Street, past London Bridge Station and into Tooley Street. Keep to your left past the London Dungeon and into Hays Galleria where you will find a Nicholson Inn, the HORNIMAN AT HAYS. Opinion seems to be sharply divided about this pub, some love it and some loathe it. Personally I think it is a marvellous concept. A massive mahogany bar runs the length of the room with, behind the bar, a mural depicting the Tea trade. Stairs lead up to a first floor restaurant and tea and coffee are available throughout the day. From the patio there are excellent views of H.M.S. Belfast and the Tower of London. Just a word of warning though, the pub is usually crowded with office workers from the City so it is best tried at the weekends or early afternoon. Visit and form your own opinion and sample beers from Arkells, Tetley, Ind Coope Burton Ale and Nicholson's own Best Bitter.

A GOOD DROP OF CAMERON'S

Drayman Les Cameron heeded one bit of advice before lowering himself over the parapet of a tower block overlooking Young's Brewery in Wandsworth, south London - don't look down.

Les and five of his colleagues from the brewery took the plunge and abseiled down the 24-storey Sudbury House - part of Wandsworth's Arndale Centre - to raise money for a new awards scheme being organised by Wandsworth police to honour young people in the borough who have shown outstanding bravery.

John Hatch, a brewer at Youngs and organiser of the abseil, said: "Several of us had abseiled in the Scouts but one of our team had never done it before. He seemed to enjoy it".

The sponsored abseil raised £300 towards the award scheme. Teams from companies and organisations in the borough took part in the event over two days.

"A DICKY IN YOUR BOTTLE ..." (East London & City News)

Tucked away behind British Rail's Bethnal Green station, on the corner of Three Colts Lane and Brady Street E1, is a free house called the YORKSHIRE GREY. This friendly pub offers a choice of up to six real ales as well as traditional cider. Long Ashton medium dry last time I called. All beers are the same price (currently £1.45 a pint) irrespective of strength. Well worth a visit.

Just across the road (and over the border in E2) is the CAVALIER which has a poster in the window advertising Fuller's London Pride for only 79p a pint - surely London's cheapest beer! The cynic in me says that there must be something wrong at that price so I haven't been tempted to desert the Yorkshire Grey. Perhaps another reader can tell me whether or not my cynicism is justified.

Finally, the enterprising guv'nor of the NELSON'S HEAD in Horatio Street, E2, has been organising various fund-raising activities in aid of the Queen Elizabeth Hospital for Children. One event was a sponsored shave which has left him beardless and the hospital somewhat richer! Needless to say, the pub still sells Bateman's Mild, Bitter, XXXB and Salem Porter, all of which are invariably well kept. Cheers!

before strolling into the car park at Bescot Stadium at 14.30, meeting the other Halifax fans. The less said about the game the better. Halifax didn't deserve going in 1-0 down at half time, but were pulled apart by Walsall after the break. The second goal was offside, but Halifax did not deserve a point on the second-half display.

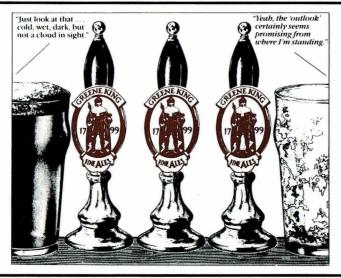

Back from Bescot to Brum on the train, and a stroll out to Aston University to the Sack of Potatoes. While waiting for it to open, we wandered round the corner and noticed across the road a fading Holt's Brewery wall advert on the side of a dubious-looking Ansells' pub. The rear of the 'Spuds' has a beer garden in which we discovered, slumbering peacefully, a local there since lunchtime, still cradling a three quarters full pint of 1*g*r. When the pub opened at 18.00, several locals were inside well into pints. Halves of M&B mild, then the long haul down Lawley St. and Watery Way to St. Andrews and the Black Horse on Green Lane. The GBG says 18.30 opening - the pub plaque says 19.30. Oh well, the GBG gets it wrong again. Copious draughts of canned soft drinks were swigged - the hot, dry evening sun beat down relentlessly into our faces as we plodded westwards back towards the centre. Those of you who know East Sheffield will understand when I describe this area of Birmingham as like Attercliffe - but lacking the charisma and excitement. It is bleak and charmless, bereft of any redeeming feature (and Ward's pubs!). This description is of course totally unrelated to the fact that we'd just walked 3 miles to visit a pub which we thought would be open but wasn't.

Anyway, we arrived at the Cannonball in Adderley Street at 18.48 and sat down on the doorstep. The guv'nor opened up 3 minutes later - 9 minutes early, a bonus - but regrettably the Holden's bitter, which I'd had there before. is no more, so pints of squash and halves of Ruddles Best (the first bitter of the day) were downed rapidly. A relax and a chat, then off to the Market Tavern in Moselev Street near Digbeth Coach Station. The Ansell's mild was a little inferior (at £1.05 a pint) to that I'd had on my previous visit. An Indian takeaway (samosas, pakoras etc.), a coach mix-up, so back to Victoria late at 22.42. This gave us just enough time - into the Star (Belgave Mews West), and "4 pints of Chiswick, please" which went down exceedingly well.

You'll notice we never actually went into Walsall - but the pubs we visited were the equal of any to be found there. I'd recommend anyone with a stout pair of shoes, the local A-Z, and a taste for cheap tasty mild and no-frills boozers to make a diversion through the Empty Quarter.

THE PROPOSED DUCIE STREET CONSERVATION AREA

The following is the contents of the campaign leaflet designed to make the Ducie Street area of Manchester (including the Jolly Anglers pub) into a conservation area.

We the undersigned call upon Manchester

City Council and the Central Manchester Development Corporation to designate the Ducie Street area as suggested on the attached plan, a conservation area, under the legislation provided by the planning (listed buildings and conservation areas) Act 1990 and the Regulations issued under it.

We are increasingly extremely concerned and worried about the on-going demolition and threat to build-ings in this unique area, which still retains a street pattern that can be traced back to the late 18th century onwards. Some of the buildings are particularly important given that they date from the time when this area was the main "Canal Port" to the eastern side of the centre of Manchester. With the existing street layout they are irreplaceable items of the industrial heritage of the city and must be protected and preserved for future generations at all costs.

The retention of these buildings and the existing street pattern would not preclude the opportunity for new development which could and ought to be designed to sit alongside, and respect these existing retained buildings and street patterns. There is a precedent for this conservation area status being provided, namely Castlefields to the western side of the city centre where Manchester's other "Canal Port" was located. Here a conservation area was earlier declared, and older important buildings subsequently have been given new uses and now enjoy secure futures, with new buildings having been built on adjacent vacant sites. Such foresight in declaring a conservation area has actively stimulated the e c o n o m i c regeneration of the Castlefield area.

is Ir our collective and considered view that the Ducie Street area must be declared a conservation area to protect its buildings and street layout pattern for future generations, to assist in the economic regeneration of the City of Manchester, and the upgrading of this increasingly important area lying as it does between Piccadilly Station, the new metro terminal, and the proposed Olympic stadium site on Hulme Hall/Forge Lane.

NEWS FROM YOUNG'S BREWERY

Young's Special is to be made available to Grand Met houses as a result of a new agreement between the Wandsworth independent brewers and Courage.

The deal, which coincides with the completion of Courage's depot integration programme, will see the high-gravity Special distributed through six Courage depots in the south of England, effectively doubling the scope of a two-year-old guest beer arrangement between the two companies.

Young's managing director, Patrick Read, said: "This new agreement reflects the strong brand image of Young's products and by extending distribution to Grand Met houses, puts Young's Special on an even firmer footing throughout the region.

"We have strong ties with Courage since we sell Beamish, the Irish-brewed stout, through our houses."

Youngs already have major distribution agreements involving Special and its midgravity stablemate, Young's Bitter, with Allied, Bass and Scottish & Newcastle, mainly on a reciprocal basis.

The new deal with Courage means that Young's Special will now be available from depots at Merton, south London; Bow, east London; Brooklands, Surrey; Maidstone, Kent; Lewes, East Sussex; and Reading, Berkshire.
